What does God want us to do together that we can't do apart?

Billions of people have never had an opportunity to see, hear, and respond to the gospel of Jesus Christ. Others have heard about Jesus, but have not yet responded. When Jesus completed his earthly ministry, he entrusted his followers with his mission. This mission should be greater than anything that has divided his church in the past.

40 Days of Love is a devotional to help Christians pray for, care for, and share the gospel of Jesus Christ with at least ten people in their sphere of influence over forty days—in a way that is beyond the norm. Each day's devotion focuses on how you can experience God's love and then express it in practical ways to those around you.

Be a part of this movement to bring the transforming life of Jesus into every community, every ethnicity, and every generation.

This is for the people who are drowning in the pain of addiction and for all of us to know that no one is too far away from experiencing the grace of God.

You can be free and create a new way of life to change your life and legacy.

It's a unique story that hasn't been told. There have been some, though not many, books written and stories told about women leaving the porn industry and the pain it has caused. Not many men (if any) have been telling this story. The porn industry gave Keith everything he thought he wanted, but his choice to walk away from it is powerful and unique.

Just Breathe uses letters from the acronym BREATHE to take people on a journey from addiction to freedom.

- B-Blessed are the Broken
- R-Ready to Surrender
- E-Evaluate my Life with Fearless Honesty
- A-Make Amends
- TH-Think a Whole New Way
- E-Encourage Others with My Life and Story
- Resource guide in appendix with list of books and resources for further research and practical help.

We are never finished with the process and journey of growth, and the best way to keep what we have is to give it away.

Prayer leads to better care.

There's an occupational hazard for pastors: Someone always needs them. There are always church members who need care, counsel, wisdom, and direction. And at the same time, there will always be people outside the church who need the gospel. Those demands and needs create unique pressures for every pastor.

A pastor who says yes to all of the ministry needs often says no to a spouse and kids. When pastors have a personal crisis, many pastors may feel alone in their struggles and have few people to turn to for true support.

How can you support your pastor? 31 Days of Prayer for Your Pastor provides inspiration and insight into what it means to be a pastor, along with Scriptures, prayers, and promises to declare over your pastor. God has given you your pastor for a purpose. Support this spiritual leader through prayer and see your life be blessed.

God saves the best for last.

Of all the sixty-six books that comprise our Bible, the last book is meant to thrill and exhilarate the believer like none other. A beautiful Christ is unveiled while a company of overcoming saints is seen rising into the fullness of Christ. The book of Revelation is exciting, powerful, dynamic, and more than meets the eye. It must be more to us than merely an unveiling of events to come, but an experience of encountering Christ.

God is ready to unveil this book to those in this generation who are ready to receive it, eat it, and live fully in the splendor of Christ. The Unveiling is more than a vision given to John but it is meant to be an inward discovery, a delightful unveiling within you. This is not a drama of Satan's worst, but a supernatural drama of God's best, pouring through his beautiful Son, Jesus Christ.

It carries one revelation alone – Christ unveiled in his people. To read this book with any other focus is to miss the entire center of its meaning. There are other truths waiting for you to discover, but only after centering our gaze on this One, our Magnificent Obsession.

A happy heart is good medicine.

On October 8, 2015, Victoria Jackson was getting ready for her 45-minute stand up routine at Zanie's Comedy Club in Nashville. But instead of enjoying the pre-show excitement, she was laying on the couch in the green room coughing nonstop, drinking tea with lemon and honey, and sucking on cough drops. Vicki had many scary moments growing up: doing a back handspring on the four-inch balance beam; performing stand up comedy; auditioning for Saturday Night Live; and getting held up by a robber with a gun in a parking lot in downtown Los Angeles. But being told she had cancer was her scariest moment. Join Vicki as she:

- wonders "why me?" and if her lollipop addiction caused the cancer
- writes a ukulele song in the MRI waiting room
- undergoes a double mastectomy with secret messages written in permanent marker to her doctor on her chest and stomach
- goes through chemotherapy, radiation, baldness, and lavender hair
- discovers that Jesus is enough
- performs at Zanie's to a standing ovation nearly one year after her diagnosis

If you're one of the one-in-eight women who've been diagnosed with breast cancer, or if you know someone who has, this 21-day devotional is full of humor, insight, and comfort to help you walk with God through the dark valley.

VICTORIA JACKSON is best known for her six seasons on Saturday Night Live, 1986–1992, and has also appeared in many films. Vicki was raised in a Bible-believing, piano-playing home with no TV. While at college on a gymnastics scholarship, Vicki discovered drama. Johnny Carson's talent scout saw her six minute stand-up comedy act and put her on the Tonight Show where she appeared over twenty times. In 1992 Vicki was reunited with her high school sweetheart, Paul Wessel, and left show business to raise a family in the suburbs of Miami. Vicki still performs stand-up comedy and appears in an occasional film. She and her husband now reside in Nashville, Tennessee, to be near their daughters and grandchildren.

Isolation. Loneliness. Alienation. None of these words appeal to our sense of belonging. Why? Because we crave connection. The need for community has been hardwired into our DNA.

The cause of our greatest cultural crises and the key to unlocking them is not a secret. The remedy that families, relationships, even nations need today is only five letters long. And it was revealed to us from the very beginning of human existence. This simple solution hasn't been hidden—it's been ignored.

By returning to the first revelation God gave his creation, we can find healing, hope, and health.

Why is the Bible always the number one best seller, yet so few read it and apply its truths to their lives?

The life of someone who reads the Scriptures at least four times a week is radically different from the life of someone who does not. In fact, the lives of Christians who do not engage the Bible most days of the week are statistically the same as the lives of non-believers.

This devotional provides four inspirational devotions each week that will help you to seek God, grow in hope, and share your faith in your culture.
